A Prayer From Archangel Gabriel

I call on the Light from the Highest Source there is.

May this Light fill me and surround me.

I ask this Light to bring clarity and wisdom to my mind.

May the Light of Compassion, Love and Clarity fill my words.

I ask that my heart be filled with the Light of Divine Love and may it radiate love to the world.

I ask the center of my being to be filled with the Light of Courage, Strength and Protection.

I ask Divine Light to fill my hara center with Balance, Harmony and Creativity.

I ask this Light to flow through my being into the earth, connecting me deeply with the Presence that strengthens my faith and the sense of Oneness with All that Is.

We begin with a prayer taught to me by Archangel Gabriel in 1990. Throughout my 20-year history with this amazing being, I have used this prayer to summon Light into each of my chakras in my meditation times, and in times when I feel empty. You can use your hands in prayerful movement as you say this prayer to yourself.

I open my arms wide above my head to begin, and then bring my hands in prayer position to my forehead as the Light enters my mind. Then step-by-step, with each prayer to the Light, I touch that energy center in my body and allow the Light of God to fill my being.

This has proven to be the most powerful practice I have used and I consider it to be the first step to my connection to Divine Light and the Angelic Dimensions. This prayer not only connects me, it clarifies my intentions, brings Light into my being, and centers me within myself very quickly. I always use it before receiving messages from Archangel Gabriel.

What follows are messages I have received over the years from Archangel Gabriel. Though they were written directly to me, they have proven to be of equal value to others because we are all part of the One Mind and Heart of God. You can read them like poetry, in little bits at a time. You may want to write down the short phrases that speak to you and place them where you can remember them throughout the day. I have also included some of the longer messages I have received about Divine Light. I thought it might be useful to include an article about how I came to be receiving messages from the Archangels.

You can find that toward the end of this e-book titled “My Initiation with the Archangels.” Because I believe it is so essential that we all learn to find our inner center of peace in these turbulent times, I included a message about Creating Sacred Space.

Throughout the years of messages offered by Archangel Gabriel, the one constant that continues through all is the reference to Divine Light.

It began in the first contact Archangel Gabriel made with me. The golden light surrounding him filled me with the loving radiance that emanated from his being. The techniques he offered for receiving his messages always began with the conscious effort to call Divine Light into my body and mind.

Now 20 years later, I still experience the presence of communion with this loving being when I call in the Light into my energy centers. When these energy centers, also known as the chakra system, are filled with Light they are purified. All that is not of the Light is released and clarity is the result. This may at times be uncomfortable, but calling in more Light seems to be the remedy, along with prayerful intentions to be a clear channel for the Divine energy of Light to work through all that you do.

What is Divine Light?

Light is the greatest energy there is and is absolutely essential to bring forth into the world. It is the connection to God's love and wisdom. Everything is empowered by Light. Beyond evolution there is Light. Within all beings is Light. Embracing all is God's Light.

Focus on this Light strengthens and empowers us. It is the one action that can assist all situations with the blessing of Light. Light carries God's intelligence and Love. From Light all comes into being. Into Light all dissolves. Light is the thread that carries communication with all that is.

When people begin to use the gift of light, it will change their being. Conscious use of this attribute is the most simple asset offered by God. Focus on Divine Light clears away the darkness of confusion and hatred. Light changes all efforts into Divine use of the gifts.

The Angels live in the Light and offer their assistance to all who call this light into their lives. The rewards are great. Risk is small.

Allow Light to empower your work and every journey you face in Life. Allow Light to enlighten you.

Light is the one constant within all the world's religions. They all speak of the Light.

How to Use Divine Light in Daily Life

What is the one thing you can do that helps every person and every situation?

There is one thing that you can do to change your world that works in every situation and with every person. Doesn't that sound miraculous? It is, in a way, because we do not expect miracles in our daily lives, though they happen around us all the time. What is this miraculous act that anyone can do? That is to bless others with Divine Light.

When you "bless" a person or a situation, it means to confer energy. This energy of Divine Light holds the Intelligence and Love of God, so it will work as a conduit for healing in the most perfect way, and will be exactly what is needed at the time. You can trust in the power of Divine Light working in your world, and you can use this energy in a positive way.

I always send the Light of God before me when I go on a journey, even if it is just to the store nearby. I ask that the car as well as my being be filled with Divine Light. Then I ask that the car be surrounded in 3 rings of Golden Light. I like to use the color gold for my protective light because that is the way both Archangel Michael and Gabriel appeared to me. So it seemed a powerful color for me, and the best one for me to use.

Protective Power of Divine Light

I have a story of the protective power of Divine Light in my life. One day in 2001, I was driving alone from Iowa to Chicago in a terrible storm filled with thunder, lightening and driving rain. Whenever I started to feel afraid I would fill the car and me with gold Light, and put three rings around the car. I was also asking for the protection of Archangel Michael, who is a great one to call on in scary situations.

When I arrived in Chicago it was after midnight and seemed too late to go to the place I had planned to sleep. I was looking for a motel where I could stay and stopped at a local convenience store. The person there sent me down the road to a street full of motels. I was not expecting all these motels to be the X-rated kind! I kept stopping in the hopes that the next one would be different, but it was not to be. I really had no idea where I was and became increasingly agitated as it looked like a very bad part of town. I kept refilling the car and me with Light, and started singing a powerful mantra chant that I loved, called the Gayatri, in order to keep centered. Finally I decided to stop at one of these motels when the road ran out and I realized how tired and confused I was.

I thought I could handle anything until dawn when it got light enough to find my way. I had to give a $12 deposit for the key (which I guess is the way they make sure a person does not use the same room over and over in one night!?) Imagining I could handle most anything for a few hours was sorely tested when I went into the room and found it was surrounded in mirrors on every wall and on the ceiling. I was horrified to see how really dirty it was with only a tiny towel in the bathroom. To make it as good a situation as I could, I brought in the flowers I had in the car, along with my suitcase and some pictures of saints I had traveling with me. I put the chain on the door and I surrounded the room with Divine Light. I asked for a blessing of light and protection for me and put my own sheets over the bedspread. I lay with my head at the foot of the bed, all the time keeping the mantra going in my mind. Whenever I awoke in the night, it seemed like I was only dozing while the mantra was repeating. Once I heard the door being opened but the chain caught and I was safe.

A few hours later, as soon as it got light, I took a shower and dried myself as well as I could with a very tiny, thin but clean towel, so I could put on clean clothes. I was still surrounding myself with Divine Light and singing the Gayatri mantra. When I was ready to leave, I looked all around for the key to get my deposit back but could not find it. I decided to just get out and forfeit the $12. When I opened the door, there was the key in the lock! I was shocked, and extremely grateful for the protection of the chain on the door. More importantly I was grateful for the power of the Divine Light that protected me when I was obviously spaced out and vulnerable.

That is the most dramatic of my stories about using the power of Divine Light in my life. It really has proven to be a simple, available, and empowering thing for me to do, at all times.

This Divine Light purifies the darkness within and around us, and is an incredible tool that you can use as your first action in any situation. Divine Light is an agent of the “first resort, not the last.”

A Message From Archangel Gabriel: Receiving Light

The time grows near for a quantum leap in energy that will affect all of humanity. Keep affirming peace and use the empowering presence of Divine Light to create harmony in your life. It is not a time of fear and upset, it is a time of glorious awakening. You are becoming free to express yourself at the deepest level of your being. At this level you stand in harmony with the Angels of Light and Wisdom. Open yourself to this energy, and allow the power of Divine Love and Light to fill every corner of your life.

It is for you to decide how you will live. Ask to live in light and love, and it is given to you. All of life rejoices when a soul turns to the Divine Light. Your job is to let go of the doubt and fear that may block your free expression of what is clear knowledge, and receive light with every fiber of your being. This light holds Divine Intelligence, Love and Truth. As you learn to go deeper into this Pure Light, miraculous occurrences will happen as more synchronous events are attracted into your life by the heightened energy frequencies. When you allow the clear light of the Divine to ring in your heart, you will feel more connection to your inner guidance.

Know that the Light of Divine Love and Wisdom is available to all who are willing to look within. Free expression of this truth is there when there are no doubts to interfere with the process, and you give yourself time to receive from the deepest Sources of your being. This is a time of heightened energy frequencies the world has never known. When one uses Divine Light as a tool for life, growth can be more gentle and free.

We offer you a simple exercise to help you receive more Divine Light. Lift your face and open your arms, ask to be filled with the Light of Pure Spirit. Then allow it descend, sparkling your energy field with Light. Expand your consciousness to receive only God. Ground the physical body and your now sparkling clean energy into the great presence of the Earth Mother. Feel it, see it, allow Light to flow down your spine and legs into the earth. This draws away disruptive elements clinging to your energy field and allows you to exist in the pure light of heightened awareness. Next the breath becomes balanced by breathing in Divine Love to the count of 7, holding this Love within you for one count, and giving back Love into the world to the count of 7. Pause for a moment, and then continue to breathe in this balanced way as you sit in the light of Pure Consciousness. Allow yourself to receive this Divine Light into the very core of your being. When you use this exercise from the Angels every day, you will feel yourself changing from within, and gracefully beginning to shine.

This Light of God expands into every area of life. It creates Divine Order at a cellular level within you and grows outward affecting all existence. These empowering lessons in Truth are gained through inward guidance. Look within, not without – and you will find the way. Grace is there for everyone. All one needs to do is ask – then receive greatly.

A Message From Archangel Gabriel: The Light of Transmutation

You, Warriors of the Light, have been diligently working for years to ground Divine energy on the planet. You have continually respected and prayed for the earth and all its creatures, but now you have found yourselves in a holding pattern. As visionaries, you see the new direction very clearly and feel the impending changes, but you find yourselves face to face with your own karma. As the old patterns of thought, feelings and behavior invade the new world you are trying to create in your lives, frustration may be rampant. This karma seems to cut through your work, depleting energy and holding back all you are seeking to accomplish.

When you consider all the old patterns that you see clearly and want to change in your life, it may weigh like a stone around your neck affecting every waking moment. Transmuting this karma becomes of paramount importance in a person's evolution, and creates a way through to new life. As Beams of Divine Light bombard the old energetic patterns, this energy breaks loose and frees energy so it can be channeled in the direction of new growth. Without focus, it can also become a vehicle of destruction. It takes faith, strength and a great power of focus, along with your intention to be a vehicle for planetary good, in order to transmute this energy.

Sensing the power of forces that work to divide and separate and being aware of the mass energy of fear, the pressure to bring more Divine Light to the earth has become a cause for focused attention. The distraction of the karmic patterns as they are stirred by the increased energy is something the Angels have been aware of as well. It has become the time for an intervention of amazing proportions.

Divine Intervention

Throughout history, Archangel Gabriel has been the Messenger of God who intervened when the timing was perfect for a planetary shift. He was there for the parting of the Red Sea, the enlightened instructions to Mohammed, and the revelation to Mary of the birth of Jesus. We are facing such a time. The transmutation of karma is one of the links to the massive awakening available that will bring about a world of Peace and Light. There are many who have dedicated their lives to this powerful awakening. They have felt the calling and have worked diligently for many years. Their personal lives have sometimes been thrown into chaos, and struggle has become the norm. Throughout this time, they have not lost their faith and have continued to rededicate their lives to the presence of the Divine made manifest on earth. These are worthy goals, and many souls from all walks of life have kept their beliefs strong and their prayers high. The time for mass change is now.

Obviously there are certain cosmic laws of cause and affect, along with times when interference would hold back the individual soul. There are also times when the karma can be lifted for the good of the great planetary being. Divine intervention is available at this time.

An Invitation from the Angels

Those who have committed their lives to uplifting the planet, and bringing more light into the world are being invited to step into a vortex of power created by the Angelic Dimensions. This Light-filled matrix is dedicated to planetary awakening. Within this matrix the release of old patterns of energy is safe and graceful. Hold yourself in alignment with the Truth that a group of dedicated souls can impact the earth with Light. Together you can anchor the Peace, the Harmony, the Divine Love, and the Respect for all of Nature that lies at the center of this Matrix of Light. Within this powerful center, there is a transmutation of the energy that no longer serves you or the planetary good.

Light can change matter in an instant. Light can transmute all stuck patterns within a human being in the same way. Step into this Vortex of Light, dear ones, and open to the release of all that has held back the manifestation of your powerful intentions for the planet. Clear yourself of doubt and know that dedication of your work and your lives for the good of the Earth's evolution will bring you into alignment with the energies working toward this empowerment.

Imagine yourself surrounded by Light with the millions of souls who are committed to planetary awakening. Know that the power created by this group intention can create the energy necessary to bless each person with freedom from the old ways. Imagine the power that is released with this energy, see it lifted and transmuted with the golden light of the Divine. Send it out to all those places on the Earth that need help at this time. Pray for the highest good of the planet and for all beings. Do not get lost in the details of how it will happen or what it will look like. Together with all the Lightworkers, Planetary Healers and the Angelic Dimensions, dedicate yourself to the highest qualities of consciousness: Oneness with Light, Harmony within all beings, Divine Grace, Wellbeing for all creatures who dwell on the earth, and Peace within the hearts of all beings. This mass dedication to the Light will transmute your karma and not only assist your evolution, but allow a more graceful evolution of the Earth as well. Know that the Light of Divine Grace brings Creative Solutions and Benevolent Outcomes.

Millions working for the Light

The dedication of the millions of Lightworkers to bring about planetary awakening is the key that frees and transmutes the old karmic patterns into more Light. Do not be discouraged by any appearance that is contrary to this belief in yourself and the Angelic energy working through you. All of Heaven awaits as mankind teeters on the brink of annihilation or evolution. Those who were called to this time can make this change happen. You know in your hearts it is possible. The power of the Angelic Dimensions is at work to create this change on Earth and within your being. This is the mass awakening time you have been waiting for. Bless ALL BEINGS with God's Light without discrimination, and know this evolution is possible NOW.

The power of Archangel Michael brings courage and protection, Archangel Raphael is bringing Divine Love and Healing, and Archangel Gabriel has been an intervening presence for centuries in order to manifest Creative Solutions. Now is the time to transmute the fear and karmic patterns so all beings can live in the harmony for which the Earth was created. Open to receive these blessings, and know it is your time to Receive Light, Give Light and Be Light.

A Message From Archangel Gabriel: The Angels and Divine Light

Light is conscious. Light is the manifestation of Source Energy. Light carries all the qualities of the Creator – Love, Joy, Direction, Freedom, Health, and more. All of the qualities sought most by human soul are carried in the Light.

Light is so conscious you can direct it to every situation and it will fill whatever is needed. When anyone thinks of Light it expands. It is available to be called forth. It is alive, more alive than can be imagined. It is Sparkling, Creative Energy available for anything that will assist the energy of Good on the planet.

Give yourself a Light Bath every day, as many times as you need it to feel clear and refreshed. Sending Light to others brings healing to them, in whatever forms their soul's need. Light is your best friend and a sacred companion for the Earth walk. The Angels work through Light, and appear wherever Light is manifested.

The Earth needs Light now more than ever in its history. Light is one of the most powerful things that can be given in order to create a sustainable future on the planet. It is the destiny of those who are considered “Light Workers” to hold the space through meditation and prayer for the shift to a peaceful, light filled world. Grounding this Light pouring from the heavens is an ongoing work.

From time immemorial we have served the Light. As human beings become more accustomed to this higher energy frequency more Light is pouring forth, bringing health in communications, relationships and true understanding of Divine Principle.

The miracle of the soul's voice is the interconnection of the soul with the angelic messenger of the God mind. When you are in this Superconscious state there is an expanded perception of the world you inhabit. Any question can be answered. This is the Christ consciousness or the Buddha mind. Allow the Golden Light of this external presence be in your awareness, for wherever you place your focus that is where you'll be.

There has never been a time when you have been alone, no matter how you felt. There were always angelic presences with you, guiding you home. As you have grown in conscious awareness, you have become more and more one with this greater energy frequency. All that you have learned and all that has happened to you brought you to where you are now. It is the time for you to use this energy for healing on to the planet and to bring more Light though you to others. You have been blessed with a loving heart and so you attract beings of Love and Light to you. The wisdom and clarity you ask for is becoming a part of this Light package you offer to the world. Trust in yourself, and trust in this angelic energy working though you. We would never leave you adrift in the world alone. All you need to do is attune yourself with this Light of Divine Truth knowing it allows you freedom to express wisdom and clarity. Absolute love flows to you and from you, and joy is your reward.

We ask of you to hold our presence close within your heart and the confusion will begin to drop away. Light giving Truth will be the only reality remaining.

Waiting in the Light of Truth are angels of love and abundant wisdom. Focus on the Light. Nothing else. That is really all you need to remember. Release all doubts and fears and remember you are truly loved. This will allow you to give harmony and serenity to others.

The Angels require only trust in order to fully work through you. As you gain this trust in yourself, freedom grown within you. This provides many opportunities and provides the way to success and whole expression. This has been a growing process, an opening through which more Light can work through you and assist others in finding their own Light. It is not only through your work that we wish to serve, but in every area of your physical life. We send love and appreciation to you for all that you are doing. As you go through your day, turn again and again to us, allowing our light to strengthen your energy field. It is in the strength of this Light that you feel protected and safe. Keep your emotional body well in hand. Do not be afraid, fear leaves you vulnerable. Know that you carry the Light of God in all you do, and leave the results in that light.

Call in all the beings of Light and Wisdom for the answers and for guidance. We are with you always.

The Angelic presence of Light and Truth empowers all who allow this energy to enter into the cellular nature of their being. Angels are with you as close as your thoughts, as near as the cells which carry the spark of God Force throughout your being. Be at Peace and ask for greater empowerment in the Truth. Love is the lesson all is well.

The Angels, also called the winged ones, are blessing your presence on earth. You are evolving into a blended species that allows your Divine Self access to your worldly life. Often this brings to the surface old fears and anxieties that are simply the ego fearing loss of its individuality. As you know you are becoming a greater expression of the One, greater than any individual expression could ever be. We are resolving the circuitry that allows this intensified vibration to manifest in your human form. Your intention for merging with your Divine Self is the strong motivating fact around which we are working. It is attracting to you those of the Light realms that will assist in this completion process.

As you live in this greater Light frequency more and more assistance will be available to you on all realms. You are asking for conscious indwelling awakening of the true spiritual essence and a greater transformational quality embodying this human form. This you see in all you do. Remember the Light. Keep your focus true. We of the Angelic Realms are evolving in ways that allow the blending of human form to occur. Greater levels of Light energy require human functioning to attune to a different frequency than normal. You are willing to do this and your body is adjusting. Be not afraid.

Call us Love, Light or Wisdom. Call us Freedom to dance in your Higher Echelon of Perception. Call us your winged Brethren, and then smile at how silly it all is to personalize a force of energy that is unnamable. We of the angelic realms live in the Truth of your Being, in every cell and fiber of your body, in the deepest desires of your heart. As you call in Love, Light and Protection, we are with you wrapping you in warm feathers of love and nurturing. It is an inner experience more than calling out. In the presence of the Earth we are Light. So embrace the feeling of our love, truth the wisdom that flows you, and remain true to your highest level of conscious awareness.

As our beloved friend, we offer to you all the Light existing in the Universe. As much as you can hold, all the good you can allow yourself to receive. There is really no difference in the capacity to receive clients or money for good work. Allow this expansion to occur within you and give to yourself in a new way. A way that truly does nourish you and leaves you feeling fulfilled. As friends we are not here to hold you physically but we touch a deep place in your heart and can fill you with as much love as you can give to yourself. If your tank feels empty, the first step is to open the floodgates that connect you to the universal levels of love and light available to you.

You can know the Angels as the Love and Light within and around you.

The Angels are a group of Light Beings that bring love and wisdom to your life. We are the energy of guidance. We reveal our way through messages designed to inspire and encourage full reflection of the God self within you. All that you do brings you learning and guidance.

When you are able to face your fears with a sincere willingness to move into the Light, you have come to a state of reality that few have been able to face. Don't doubt yourself, your movement or your guidance. The Angels are with you through each painful step and see you growing into purest Joy and loving Peace.

There is an incredibly expanded capacity within each individual to receive love and wisdom throughout their being. The Higher Self is the conduit that sends messages into the conscious mind. The Higher Self is in touch with God Mind and there is no separation between each person and the Source of all life. As the energy field expands, greater consciousness is available through layers in the hierarchy of energy surrounding earth. Angels are God's thought forms. They are available on this energy hierarchy to those who seek Truth and Light. They are beings of great love and have the capacity to give this love to humans when there is a willingness to receive. We are greatly hoping to give quantities of love to seekers from the earth. There is a need at this time, also great resistance through elements of fear and pain. Soon these will break down resistance and all will receive love. Know we are never far away and live in the heart of you.

An Archangel is an expansion of many qualities of consciousness channeled into a force of energy that you can use. Receiving the gifts of the angels means that you are truly free to express your highest potential. When you relax and allow our energy to flow through you, freedom is the result. High levels of energy are capable of moving large amounts of junk through the physical body system. Your only requirement here is to show up. Allow yourself to receive the healing we have prepared for you on every level. Light knows no separation. There is no need to make separate the Angelic Realms and the higher self. We flow into the other through desire and asking.

The Angels are as close as your thoughts. Even when you are not conscious of our Light, it will be there, bigger and brighter than ever before. Let go gently. Love yourself free. And never doubt our presence.

The Angelic qualities of every description are available to those who seek the guidance of true knowing. We have become an ever present Source of Light and Strength to you, requiring only your conscious awareness to connect deeply within your being.

The Light of the Angels is blessing all you do and reaches others through your love.

Call on the Forces of Light to guide you and use the energy for healing.

The expansiveness of the Angelic energy brings a new level of Light into your life. When you do not feel our connection to you so strongly, just know that it is temporary on your side. For our part, we will always be with you. The only thing that creates separation is your thought.

Being a conduit for pure Light puts you into the realm of the Angels. When your intention is to bring ore Light to the world, and you have a willingness to serve, there is a blessing for all that you do. We want you to live in joy, peace and happy expectancy. We want to fully inhabit the human form to bring about great changes and allow free movement within the dimensions. Your willingness to be with us and your belief allows us to work through you in all you do. You are blessed and any assistance you desire is available.

Let your being become aware of the Grace expressing through you from God and the Angelic kingdom. The grace of the Angelic consciousness is available to all who are seeking the Light.

As you elevate your energy, you become connected to the Light Force containing all information and energy. We of the Angelic Dimensions commune through this Light and the vibration of Love. You can receive at deeper levels than ever before. Remember that doubt and fear are numbing forces, and separate you from the guidance available in Divine Light.

The spirit of conscious awakening is pouring on to this planet – awakening through the light within, and through the particles of Light energy raining on this planet through the atmosphere.

Your expression of God’s Truth and the light of pure spirit fills all you do. Others will know by the love they feel in their hearts. It does not matter so much what you say, the important thing is to let light flow through you.

You are never far from the Light. It is as close as your awareness.

Be like a tiger wearing stripes for all to see, and accepting them as part of his nature. So it is with the Light of God. This is a brilliant beacon shining out into the world from you. Accept this as a part of your nature.

The ever-widening circle of Light gives back to you the hope, the grace and freedom of expression that is your true gift for all on the planet.

Accepting yourself as one on the path of Light – you allow doors to open, portals of change.

Be aware always that the Christ Light resides within you and that many facets of your life are already under the influence of the Holy Spirit.

Gratitude is the best way to life your consciousness into the truth of Light and Joy. The more you allow this joyous spirit to operate in all areas of your life, the more the Light expands and brings more of all you want to receive. Set your intentions. Be willing to take the time to connect with the Truth of your being. Feel free to claim the highest possible place in the grand scheme. Claim it. Know it. Be it.

The prayers you offer to others are a ticket to higher consciousness, because the gifts and blessings sent out in Light and Love have a ten-fold return.

Gratitude opens the door and prayer brings more Light and Love. Whenever you ask sincerely, the Angels are prepared to answer in kind.

Your growth toward the Light is free will movement. Your intentions will accelerate your growth, as will prayer and acceptance of all parts of yourself.

You are growing in conscious awareness. As you ask for this greater Light frequency to flow into your life, new channels open to provide you space for new spurts of growth.

Ask to let go of pain as easily as a leaf falls from a tree. When you let go, all that you need comes to you. You can feel Joy as long as you stay connected to God with your thoughts. You will feel pain when you let your vibrations fall to mental plane awareness. Constantly call in the light, take conscious steps and ask for miracles as the Divine Presence moves into your life in a bigger way.

Let this light flow outward to guide all your steps. You can say, "The Light of God goes before me."

Trust the Light within you and you will not go wrong. All you seek is here for you now.

The essence you are looking for is Fulfillment - full fill-ment of Light. So pour Light into all the empty spaces.

All fear energy to flow into the earth and Divine Light to infill all the spaces.

All that we are is embodied in light. The presence of God shines through your heart. The Light of the Christ courses through every cell of your body. Never doubt for a moment your Divinity – your oneness with All That Is. Deeply be with the One Presence in every waking moment. It only takes your conscious awareness. It does not matter what you do. All that matters is your awareness of Truth.

As your channels become more clearly attuned to the vibration of Light, the answers become more clear.

The Light of the world is the force that shines brightly, healing all nations with Love. The Light of the Great central Sun, all the forces of universes stand behind the Light. Call it in. Accept the light in your world and be a Light for all who come into your energy field.

Harmony, strength and Wisdom within begin with acceptance of the Light within you.

Come into your center of Light again and again during the day and be so grounded and focused into the Light of God that you are reborn.

Trust the Light of the sun encourages the flower of your soul to bloom.

Many times we have been available through Light Force for you and now as you step forward in greater awareness you know the Light of God is accelerating your growth on many levels.

Be aware of the Truth of God shining through all that you do.

The entire Universe rejoices when one of our children sits in the silence. From this place all of God's Light can shine brightly through the being who walks the planet. Allow yourself time each day to remember this source of Light, put prayer into every moment and remember God's truth is always there when you look inside yourself.

As the sun breaks through the clouds this beautiful morning, know that Light breaks through all that is false within you.

Even on the darkest day, the sun is always shining. Remembering the illusion the clouds make is important as a symbol and focus for freedom in your life.

Bring Light. Give Light. Be Light.

If Light is always your focus, all situations will lighten up.

The reward for connection to God's Light is always Joy. The more you feel it, the more you can hold. Allowing more Joy to claim its rightful place on earth frees souls to experience their highest truth. Joy is the Director of Consciousness. It is the highest vibrational energy manifesting on earth right now. The Joy energy is attracting more Light. Joy is alive with Angelic presence. Joy is the freedom to BE.

As you allow the sensation of Joy to open the channels, more and more Light flows through you.

Gratitude is the best way to lift your consciousness into the truth of Light and Joy. The more you allow this joyous spirit to operate in all areas of your life, the more the Light expands and brings more of all you want to receive. Set your intentions. Be willing to take the time to connect with the Truth of your being. Feel free to claim the highest possible place in the grand scheme. Claim it. Know it. Be it.

The prayers you offer to others are a ticket to higher consciousness, because the gifts and blessings sent out in Light and Love have a ten-fold return.

Gratitude opens the door and prayer brings more Light and Love. Whenever you ask sincerely, the Angels are prepared to answer in kind.

Your growth toward the Light is free will movement. Your intentions will accelerate your growth, as will prayer and acceptance of all parts of yourself.

You are growing in conscious awareness. As you ask for this greater Light frequency to flow into your life, new channels open to provide you space for new spurts of growth.

Ask to let go of pain as easily as a leaf falls from a tree. When you let go, all that you need comes to you. You can feel Joy as long as you stay connected to God with your thoughts. You will feel pain when you let your vibrations fall to mental plane awareness. Constantly call in the light, take conscious steps and ask for miracles as the Divine Presence moves into your life in a bigger way.

A Message from Archangel Gabriel: December – The Power of Light

This is a month of incredible power. The hearts of people everywhere are more open during the holidays than any other time of the year. This receptivity allows a flow of Divine Grace into the world. Using this powerful force is paramount as doorways to new consciousness open this month.

December 12, 12:12 is a day of intense awakening. The energy of 12:12 represents Union with the Divine, and signals an awakening of Divine Love on the planet. This empowered energy can be called the Light of the Christ or Christ Consciousness. It does not matter if one is Christian in religious beliefs, the consciousness holding Divine Love is not a person from history, it is an energy frequency of Golden Light and awakens the heart to unconditional love. It will be as though the heavens are downloading golden light. Many people are genetically encoded to respond to this gold light energy and it will signal a mass awakening.

On December 12, preferably at 12:12, take the time to sit in a visual bath of golden light, ask to awaken into the consciousness of the Christ energy, and pray for the enlightenment of all peoples. See hearts connecting in golden light, and know miracles happen when, together, we seek benevolent outcomes and peace on earth.

All through the season give your love away to others and see this loving gold light spreading around the world. Whenever a digital clock shows 12:12, it is a minute of power. You can visualize the golden light awakening love in the hearts of each person on the planet. Send your love to all in need. It is a good time to ask for the mass awakening of the Christ Consciousness. This is the power of Divine Light, Divine Love and Union with all that is good.

Winter Solstice

As December 21 approaches, the northern hemisphere of the planet moves from darkness to the light. The Winter Solstice becomes the darkest day of the year, and then earth energy expands to encompass more light. From the beginning of time, the native peoples have worshipped this change in seasons. The sun held a position of power in their rituals. Modern people have lost touch with the natural magic involved in observing the Solstice and Equinox seasons. At the winter Solstice, as you honor the time for the earth to move toward longer light filled days, it increases your experience of light. When you ask for Divine Light to fill your own life, a transition occurs within you as well as the earth. The darkness before the dawning of longer days is symbolic of the darkness so many feel in their lives. Often this is the signal of spiritual awakening when one feels most despairing. It requires faith to know that Light follows darkness, and the energy surrounding the Winter Solstice can be used to encourage the strength of personal faith. This same energy can be used in the southern hemisphere, as they turn toward shortened daylight hours.

Consciously visualize the sun illuminating the earth and your being with Golden Light. See the sun's rays enlightening the energy all around your body and feed the earth with this light. Your body is like an antenna for light-filled energy. When you ground this energy by visualizing Divine Light flowing through your body, out your feet into the earth, then the planet receives a blessing of the highest frequency of love. It is a wondrous gift to be able to give energy back to the earth that sustains and feeds you.

There is great power in observance of Divine Light at the Solstice. With a prayer to be one with the light, an intention is set and light will flood into the lives of those who are willing to receive. The power of light is expressed through expanded consciousness and wholehearted love. Receive Divine Light; allow it to fill every cell in your body. Ask to have all the dark spaces within you filled with light. Open the doors of your mind to the light and you will become enlightened.

For those reading this transmission, we ask your assistance by visualizing the earth surrounded by Golden Light during the entire month of December and beyond. This light contains Divine Intelligence and Love, and will know how best to serve. Whenever you see a person who looks sad, or hear of troubled people anywhere, send Golden Light. You can send this light to places of disharmony and to government leaders. See them receiving Divine Love into their hearts. You do not realize the powerful affect this visualization will have on planetary energies as great numbers of people do this work.

And then there were Angels

A discussion of the month of December is not complete without the recognition of the presence of Angels at the season of Christmas. Traditional carols and Christmas stories abound with Angels. People wholeheartedly decorate their homes and trees with Angels and send cards with Angels on them to friends and family at this time of year. There are legions of angels gathering ever nearer the earth now, drawn by the prayers and the thoughts of so many people. This is a tremendous blessing that opens your heart to more love and your mind to receiving a greater amount of Divine Love and Joy. As messengers of God, the Angels are here to serve all those who seek peace in the hearts and love in their lives. Some have felt the softening of their burdens, as Angels begin to lift the energies of the earth.

Hark, the herald angels are singing. Can you hear the angel voices? They are calling you into their midst. They are calling you to rejoice in the Divine Love and Light streaming onto the planet during this celebration of the Christmas season.

Angels foretold the birth of the Christ onto the earth, and appeared to the wise men before they made their journey. There is a mass awakening of spiritual consciousness on the planet at this potent time in history as well. As people turn more and more to prayer, and seek Divine Love in their lives, the dire prophecies lose their power. When you believe that peace can be present on earth, your faith touches others, and they begin to believe. In this way, thought-by-thought, one by one, the people of the earth will begin to experience the peace that passes all understanding. Never doubt the power that one person can hold.

As people turn toward Christmas, hearts are opened for the birth of the Christ Light within. This light filled energy brings the qualities so many seek to receive. There is an expansive sense of Joy; a deep abiding Peace and more Love than has been experienced at any other time of the year.

You can call upon Divine Light to illuminate your mind and heart so you act as a Beacon of Light. The earth needs all those souls who believe in the power of this mass awakening. As you open to new possibilities in your own life, you may feel the protective presence of Angel's wings surrounding you in love. As you become aware of the power of Divine Love, it allows the Christ Light to awaken within you and radiate from you. You then become a Light to the world. This is the way to Peace on Earth and Good Will among all beings.

A Message From Archangel Gabriel: The Power of Creating a Sacred Space

We are going to give you the way to have World Peace and a solution to every crisis you are facing in your life.

Now that we have your attention, we want to remind you of a simple Truth. When the world of appearances is chaotic, there is only one place where you can go to find the peace you are seeking, and that is within your being. You will find yourself being drawn there very naturally when you set your intention to have peace in your life. Peace within you leads to peace on Earth, because your inner peace will radiate into the world around you.

What we are suggesting is not new information but the effects are profound. There are many ways to develop inner peace that have been used for centuries and they are deceptive in their simplicity.

Creating a sacred space in your home can be of paramount importance to begin this process. Set aside a place where you can go every day to develop your “peace muscle,” for indeed, inner peace is a like a muscle that may take practice to develop. Your sacred space need not be elaborate but when you have a clean, uncluttered place to be in, it will help calm your mind very quickly. You may choose a corner with a chair that is comfortable to you or you may prefer a pillow on the floor.

When you have a focal point of beauty, it adds to your practice in a graceful way. Use a flat surface such as a table, or even a box will do. Cover it with an attractive, clean cloth if the flat surface is not pleasing to the eyes. Start with a candle to symbolize the Light of God. Light this candle and ask for Peace to fill the world within and around you. You will offer a profound service to the world when you perform that simple act, as you are increasing the vibrational frequency of energy where you are sitting. This beautiful energy of peace will fill your life.

Flowers on this table are also very soothing, and offer great beauty while they carry the energy of growth, inspiration and a connection to Nature. When you place one flower in a vase next to the candle you have in your focal point area, you are creating a sacred space in your home in which you can sit in peace as you learn to BE.

Allow yourself a moment to do nothing but BE

Learning to BE is an essential component for a happy life. Many structures people have relied on are crumbling, and great change is in process. You will serve yourself, your family and your community greatly when you take time to just BE. This being nature within you is a quieter place that promotes inner peace. It thrives the more you give yourself time in the sacred space you created in your home. Soon, as this quiet space within you becomes more familiar, you will notice yourself feeling more peaceful as you have expanded into your heart. Your happiness begins there within you, not in your outer circumstances. In your sacred space, you fill yourself with the Light of God. Every time you intentionally give yourself time to breathe in a conscious manner, you are breathing in light and allowing Divine Love and Peace to fill every cell of your being. No matter how much time you are able to give to your self, it will create profound change within you.

This sacred space in a quiet corner of your home will become one of your most valuable assets. In the midst of change, you have a place to go where you can feel peace in your heart. Soon you only have to think of your sacred space, and with a breath you will be there in your mind. Imagine how this will affect your life, and those around you. One person centered in the Light of Peace can create a profound shift in the world around them. This person will hold a higher vibrational frequency than others in the normal chaotic world where you have lived for so long. Imagine how beautiful it would be if everyone were able to attain this place of peace within.

A Witness to the World

Development of what has been called the witness consciousness is a useful tool. It prepares you to notice the world around you with more equanimity. When you can temper your responses to outward appearance, you will feel much happier and have more peace in your life. Learning to center your self in this witness place can be a key ingredient to inner peace. You can begin the process by breathing in a more balanced way, even when you are driving. To keep your center, your breath can be an efficient tool.

A Balanced Breath is one where you breathe in the same number of counts on the inhalation that you do on the exhalation. As you do this, you begin to feel a sense of calm as your heart beats more slowly. It enhances your experience when you imagine yourself breathing in golden light with every inhalation, and releasing golden light with every exhalation. This golden light literally carries the presence of the Angels and holds the qualities of consciousness you want in your world. You can be breathing in Divine Love with every in breath, and breathing Peace into the world with every out breath.

And then there are Angels

One asset not to be discounted in order to bring you a sense of inner peace would be the Angelic Dimensions. The Angels are very available in these times of change. Have you noticed the digital clocks repeating 11:11? That is a moment with the Angels, opening a new doorway in your mind where you can send energy in the direction you intend. The Angelic Realms offer qualities of consciousness that people crave in their lives, such as Divine Grace, Peace, Harmony, Love, Clarity and Wisdom. You can invite these qualities into your life and the Angels will strengthen the Light connecting you to these qualities. It is a profound, prayerful way to live. A prayer for Grace does not have to be difficult and wordy, but it does help the process when you give yourself time to receive what you are asking for. Often prayers may be on the fly and sound like, “Help, bring me peace. Quickly. Now!” It is not that this prayer would not be useful, but just imagine what might occur if you had used prayer as an intention in your morning practice. It might sound more like this:

“Dear God” (Goddess, All that Is, Divine Presence, Spirit, or your personal master teacher),

“Thank you for bringing Divine Light into my life. I ask the Angels of Grace and the presence of Divine Love to fill every fiber of my being, so I may have more Peace in every area of my life. I bless my family, my work and my being with this Light and I am profoundly grateful. Thank you. Thank you. Thank you.”

When you add your thanks even before you see the results, this attitude of gratitude increases your receptiveness. You can complete the prayer with the traditional “Amen”, or as a closure, you can say, “So be it,” or “So it is.”

Then stay where you are, and breathe for a few minutes. In these simple ways you are empowering your life. Your prayers become a beacon calling to you the light and wisdom you seek. Your breath becomes a prayerful thought blessing the world. Create a sacred space where you can dwell with the Angels. Ask for the Divine Light to fill you with Grace, as well as all you need to bring you Peace, and then give yourself time to breathe in the blessings being offered you at this time.

When you feel more at peace, breathe out these blessings and send Peace to a world that needs you to be a Beacon of Light. As if you were a lighthouse on a point of land in the vast ocean, the Divine Light you send out into the world shines clearly in the dark night of chaotic times. Your sacred space within and without allows you to do the work of creating more Peace within you, and this creates Peace in your world.

“Who Did You Say You Were?” My Initiation with the Archangels

“Is this an earthquake? Has lightening struck nearby?” The intensity of the light behind my closed eyes is brilliant, and the room is shaking in a way native Californians interpret as an earthquake. Slowly, a growing awareness begins to register on my conscious mind, “I live in Hawaii, where earthquakes and lightening are rare occurrences. What is going on?” I wondered. Though I have been trying to focus on the woman lying before me on the massage table during a healing session in my living room, the golden light shining behind my eyes was awakening my curiosity.

Allowing my eyes to open to a slit at first, they popped wide when I observed the radiant visitor at the foot of my table. The source of the room’s unnerving quakes was a glowing figure standing in golden light, with wings so large they reached beyond the ceiling. Remembering my client happily breathing deeply on the table, I resisted the impulse to scream and fall backwards. I needed to stay calm so I would not cause her alarm.

My mind was racing, as the emanations of power from this winged being streamed across the room. “Who are you?” I ventured in a silent whisper to the glowing apparition. A booming voice in my mind answered, “I am Archangel Michael.” I looked again at the radiant figure blocking my view of Diamond Head and the ocean beyond. I gazed up at the being whose wings were as wide as the patio door before they disappeared through the ceiling in gold light. I could feel the molecules in my body rearranging themselves. I was being called into an unfamiliar realm, and if I had not already been on my knees, they would have buckled. My client sighed, and I came back into the present moment. It was time to complete our session of the healing work I had been doing for years. My last thought to the one who said he was Archangel Michael could best be interpreted as, “Right. Thank you for sharing, but I’m busy now.”

My conscious mind felt as if it were turning flips. There was no reference in my background that included angels. I had no church upbringing as a child. As an adult, I studied a Hindu tradition that cautioned against being lost in visions that may represent the distracting illusions of the ego rather than true spirituality of the heart. The likelihood of an archangel appearing in my living room was too overwhelming for my rational mind to contain, and I felt intimidated by that massive Angelic presence threatening to rock my world. As I helped my client to sit up, she commented on how well she felt while noticing the breathing problems, which had brought her to my table, had disappeared. I never mentioned my celestial visitor. I also did not say anything to my husband later in the day, since he had already made a reference to the confusion he experienced with my “esoteric side.” It appeared that I might have finally gone around that mental bend in the road to the place my family was sure I had been heading for many years. Yes, I was a wanderer on the path of higher consciousness, an explorer of spiritual belief systems, metaphysical truth seeker, and what some called, a hippie. Never mind the fact that it was now 1988 and I was over 40, and still wondering what I was going to be when I grew up. I knew that I had a path to follow and that my work needed a spiritual purpose to feel meaningful. I just did not know the form this calling was going to take, so I had been making prayerful entreaties to the Universe.

Though I Ignored Him – There he was

The visitations from Archangel Michael continued for the next year during the most intense sessions of my healing work. I kept up the prayers for my soul's purpose to be fulfilled, and pretended not to notice the large winged being in my living room. Clients often commented on the radiant glow of golden light, but I never acknowledged the source of that radiance. I did not try to engage him in conversation, and just kept scrambling to find a grounding place in the material world of Honolulu after years of ashram living. A visitation from an archangel was not fitting even my wildest plans for a clue to my vocation in life. Looking back I can acknowledge the shift in my healing work with the arrival of Archangel Michael. The vibrational frequencies in my form of bodywork had taken a great leap, but I was still too intimidated to explore the meanings behind the gift of Archangel Michael's presence. I could focus on the profound light enhancing my work, but could not reconcile an angel in my already emotionally turbulent world. It was most likely the attention I was giving to my emotional state that hindered my exploration of the mystery of an archangel's presence in my life.

During this time, questions about my marriage were rampant. This upheaval mirrored the great changes on the world stage. After the Harmonic Convergence in 1987, the structure of the USSR collapsed, the Berlin Wall was torn down and it seemed as though the structures I had been so sure of, on many levels, were now crumbling. Though often confusing, it was also a heady time as the realization of possibilities for peace on earth, and new beginnings of global awareness for environmental action became more prevalent. My husband and I discussed divorce and made a decision to not only stay together, but to buy a condo on the windward side of O'ahu. Possibly this provided even more distractions to keep me from exploring the world of the Angelic Realms.

Archangel Gabriel in Wings of Golden Light

Finally in 1990, while meditating in my new living room, the now familiar golden light flooded the field behind my eyes, only this time my heart felt like it was melting into a pool of love. The angel standing before me was nearly faceless in the bright light, and once again, his wings arched grandly beyond the cathedral ceiling. This time his eyes drew me to him in a new way, and I felt no fear. I heard him say he was Archangel Gabriel, and that he had a message for me. He proceeded to give me a series of exercises that allowed me to receive inspired communication from a light-filled world of love and compassion. These messages soothed my emotional bruises, filled me with hopefulness and a deep inner peace.

For years I wrote from this inspired place during my meditation times filling journals with wisdom and truth. Still I was quiet about these experiences, rarely sharing the information. When I did, my friends were very positive and encouraged me to create an outlet for this work. I decided to print small inspirational message cards. When I asked Archangel Gabriel what I should call them, I was told, Angel Messages. He then informed me that the name of my new business was to be "Angelic Dimensions."

Then one of my friends showed me the cover of Time Magazine from December 1993 since I did not read newspapers or watch the news. I was astonished that a national well-respected magazine would have a beautiful angel emblazoned on its cover, with the caption: The New Age of Angels. 69% of all Americans believe in angels. What in heaven is going on? The angel trend had officially begun. The world was finally ready to hear what the angels had to communicate, and many would make mega bucks on corny angel trinkets. In 1994 my first advertisement to launch the Angel Messages card sets was mailed to New Age retail shops in the form of a flyer that said, “Help from above for your bottom line.” Out of 4,000 mailings, I received 400 orders, an amazing 10% return, and my new work in the world had been revealed to me. I was out of the metaphysical closet admitting that I not only could see angels, they were talking to me.

For four years, I had a wonderful small business dedicated to inspiring people with messages from Archangel Gabriel and bringing peace to earth. In retrospect, it also would have been useful to ask for a profit from the Angelic Dimensions for my very earthly company. In 1999, after my business went into bankruptcy and we lost our condo, my appendix burst, a divorce was imminent, I was in a car accident and menopause arrived, I would remember ruefully the guidance at the beginning of that fateful year: Just when did you think you would need faith? Angelic humor was reminding me that it is easy to have faith when things are going well, but having faith in that which is unseen is really the key to happiness. During the painful time that followed, I knew I was being guided through the unknown. I have since realized that I was never truly alone no matter how it felt at the time. Now ten years later, I have used some of the messages I received from Archangel Gabriel and put them into a book published in February 2009 called The Gabriel Messages. I am receiving messages from Archangel Gabriel again on a regular basis and they have found a new creative abode through my site, www.thegabrielmessages.com. Though my life has taken some interesting turns, I am happier than I have ever been.

I believe that Archangel Michael was the advance courier for my work in the world, as he has been for so many people who feel like they are becoming spiritual warriors. As we work together with others to anchor more Divine Light on the planet, it brings the energy of Heaven to Earth leading to spiritual evolution. The Archangels are available now in a way they have never been in recent history, if only people are willing to listen. The earth has been receiving unprecedented angelic light and healing energy that can bring encouragement and support to the hearts of all beings. The power available from the Angelic Realms strengthens our core spiritual energy so we can stand up for the truths we believe in, and bring greater understanding and positive change into our lives. The love of the angels can provide depth and meaning to hearts that are starving in a world where overemphasis on the material is the norm. The angels are here to open doors to a refined state of Truth and uplift our hearts and minds. With the help of the Angelic Dimensions we can connect to the child like spirit within each of us, and offer hope to the confused adult within us in need of direction. I truly believe we are in the midst of an evolutionary shift allowing us to bring value into our personal lives, more interest in peace to all hearts in the world, and healing for the environment. We have been gifted with a magnificently beautiful planet, and have the opportunity to serve the Creator of this earth with the profound support of the Angelic Realms.

Perhaps you will consider a visitation in your life? Try inviting Archangel Michael into your living room. You may be surprised at the blessings that take place.
